Description

Take watercolour to the edge and find out what it is “really” capable of doing. Go beyond the prosaic and create visual poetry in watercolour.

This two day course will focus on the COMPLETE process of painting in watercolour- from the initial concept to the final masterpiece.

Through demonstrations and lectures Charles will cover, not only the important technical aspects of colour, tone and edge, but will also touch on other important element that are often overlooked – mental attitude, great design and telling a story.

Designing with a purpose can make all the difference to how successfully you capture a subject an although a huge topic, Charles will give a few fundamentals in the workshop to point you in the right direction.

How to “think” your way through your painting is also an important part of painting and something that will also be touched upon.

A question and answer period will also be included where students will have the opportunity to ask questions of a specific nature, so come prepared with your questions.

If you want to become more versatile in watercolour and bring back the excitement and freshness into your work, then come along and let Charles help you reignite the love and enthusiasm for Watercolour.
